Burglars Take 11 Typewriters at High School

Deputy Sheriffs Study Fingerprints on $650 Theft

A burglar who apparently knew his way around broke into the Antioch Township High school sometime Friday night and stole 11 typewriters from the commercial department.

The total value of the machines amounted to about $650, according to Arthur Maplethorpe, president of the board of education. Five of the machines were valued at $70 each and six others at $50 each.

The work appeared to be that of a professional or professionals, Maplethorpe stated. There was considerable speculation as to why the thief or thieves passed up four other typewriters in the room and six others in adjoining rooms.

Door Glass Broken

Access to the building was apparently gained by shattering the heavy plate glass in the east entrance door with some blunt instrument and reaching in to unlatch the door.

A glass panel in the door to the typewriter room was also broken.

A piece of the broken plate glass, and the cap of a typewriter carriage that had been broken off are being checked for fingerprints by deputy sheriffs.

The broken doors and the loss of the machines were discovered by C. E. Cunningham, school engineer, when he arrived at the building at 6:35 a. m. Saturday morning.

Occurred After 11

Principal J. O. Austin was in the building until 10:30 p. m. Friday evening after the Antioch-Grant basketball game. Deputy sheriffs checked at the grounds at 11 p. m. and found everything in order.

The burglary is believed to have taken place some time between midnight and 6 a. m., and to have been the work of someone who had at least had the advantage of some sort of preliminary survey in learning the general lay-out of the building and the location of the machines.

Future Farmer Boys Place High at Harvard

The Antioch Poultry Judging team placed third in a competition of thirteen high schools in a contest conducted at Harvard, Ill., last Saturday. Each team consisted of five members thus having 65 contestants. Francis Swenson and Norman Edwards of the Antioch team tied for fifth place in the individual judging of the eight rings of poultry. The other Antioch members are Richard Prince, Lloyd Drom and Charles Zender. All had excellent scores.

The Antioch Grain Judging team made up of Ray Wells, Joe Carney, George Winfield, John Blackman and Otto Gussarson, did some excellent judging to place in 6th position with only a few points behind the 4th and 5th place teams. Sugar Grove won the grain contest, while Huntley won the poultry test.

RURAL YOUTH GROUP ENJOYS YULE PARTY

About 25 young people attended the Rural Youth Annual Christmas party held in the Millburn church last Thursday evening.

To get in the Christmas mood, the group first sang a number of Christmas Carols led by Frank DeYoung of Millburn and accompanied by Lois Bonner, also of Millburn.

Louise LaMagdeleine presided at the business meeting. Melvin Hubbard of Libertyville was elected as reporter for the association.

The remainder of the evening was spent in playing games under the direction of Gladys Meckeweiler.

Gifts were distributed from beneath the attractively decorated Christmas tree by Gordon Jones, of Grayslake, who acted as Santa Claus.

At the close of the evening refreshments were served under the charge of Margaret Denman of Millburn. Gladys Meckeweiler of Mundelein and Earl Bauman of Millburn were general chairmen of the party.

Slough hay, in low-lying lands to the west of Antioch is being cut and shipped to Chicago in bales. It will be used for insulating freshly-poured concrete in Chicago's new subway system to keep it from freezing.

Antioch Post Office to Be Open Xmas A. M.

The Antioch post office will be open until 9 a. m. Christmas morning for handing out mail of all classes to persons who wish to call at the office. Postmaster James Horan announces.

This will be an accommodation to the public, the postmaster states, and the employees involved will donate their services without pay in order that as many of the gift parcels and cards may be delivered as possible.

Firemen Urge Precautions at Holiday Time

Guard Against Flaws in Wiring, Advises Fire Department

"Guard against fire hazards, and make sure that your Christmas is indeed a merry one, and that your New Year is truly happy," warn the men of the Antioch Fire Department's fire prevention committee.

Christmas time, with its special decorations, pretty lights and its hurry and bustle, also offers some choice fire hazards, according to a survey made by John Horan of the department.

Inflammable material spread over decorative lights may possibly catch fire from the heat of the bulb or, particularly, from "shorts" in the wiring.

"Be sure to check your tree wiring and make certain it is in good order," the firemen warn.

Increased use of electric lights and electric appliances throughout the home, as relatives and family members arrive for visits, make it imperative that the wiring of the house and of lamps and appliances be in good order, they also point out.

Don't Tamper.

In using electric toys, one of which may cause a blown fuse, the fire department recommends the policy of replacing the fuse, but of refraining from tampering with the main switch. "Call an electrician," they advise.

The same precautions apply to the demonstration of gift electric appliances, the firemen point out.

Extra gas and electricity used for preparing the big Christmas dinner may put a bigger load than usual in the wiring and other facilities of the home, so these should all be in order, the committee emphasizes.

"Use of these few suggestions as safety measures for your holiday enjoyment, will double your enjoyment," Horan concludes in his report for the firemen.

Special Train to Convey Shriners to Winter Circus Jan. 5

Lake county Shriners and their friends will set out Friday afternoon, Jan. 5, on the jolly trip aboard a special train from Waukegan that has become an annual part of their journey to see the opening of the Shrine Winter Circus in Chicago.

The opening, held in other years on Jan. 4, has now been definitely scheduled for Jan. 5, it was announced by Swanson, who is president of the Lake County Shrine club.

The train chartered for the trip will leave Waukegan at 5:20 p. m., according to present plans, Swanson states.

"DOWN MEXICO WAY" COMING TO CRYSTAL

"Down Mexico Way," the latest and best drama the J. B. Rotnour company has produced, will be seen on the Crystal stage next Thursday night. Mr. Rotnour has spared no expense to contract this smashing hit, and he says it is a splendid dramatic treat with a different vein of comedy. The play embraces the entire company, ten in all, with special stage settings and lighting effects arranged by Mr. Lang. All the action takes place just south of the border.

J. B. says—get your merchants' free tickets listed in the Crystal ad and then ten cents is all you can pay at the box office. Stores are open, so do your Christmas shopping and then attend the performance of "She Dared the Man" tonight, and "Down Mexico Way" next Thursday night.

Toys Will Be Distributed to Children Friday

Recreation Classes Plan Christmas Cheer for Many Youngsters

Through the efforts of the Recreation project of Antioch and volunteer children and adults, many toys have been re-conditioned and will be distributed to children of less-privileged families for Christmas. The recreation leaders, with headquarters at the Antioch Grade School Recreation rooms, have had charge of the painting of toys of all kinds with the assistance of participants of the handicraft classes.

Mrs. Samuel Stowe, Mrs. Robert Sheehan and Mrs. Charles Monier of Antioch have spent many hours dressing the dolls for distribution, and the artistic results will delight their new owners on Christmas morning.

In Charge of Work.

B. F. Naber, township supervisor, William Phillips, member of the Antioch Recreation association, and Edwin Kapsa, local recreation leader, will have charge of the distribution of all toys on Friday, December 22.

Miss Dorothy Pulse is superintendent of the Work Projects Administration Recreation program in Antioch, and the local staff includes the following leaders: Miss Grace Gutermuth, Mrs. Jennie Couper, Edwin Kapsa, Ross Coan and Joseph Clayton.

The project is sponsored by the Antioch Recreation association, with Fred Hawkins serving his second year as president.

Antioch H. S. Alumni to Hold Banquet Dec. 28

Reservations for the annual Antioch Township High School Alumni banquet, to be held Thursday evening, Dec. 28, at the Roundup, should be made by Tuesday noon, the committee in charge announces.

Reservations may be made by telephone at Antioch 354, or may be sent by mail to Mildred Hulik, Antioch, Ill. The program is to include a talk by a member of the alumni group, and dancing will follow the dinner.

Willard J. Murphy, of the class of '33 is general chairman of the banquet committee.

Ten Antioch Residents Are Eligible for Social Security Act Benefits

The Social Security Board Field Office at Waukegan, Ill., has notified ten Antioch residents that they may be eligible to receive monthly payments under the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance program of the Social Security Act, beginning January 1, 1940, according to a statement made today by Albert S. Lewis, Manager of the Waukegan field office.

Mr. Lewis also stated that it is advisable for all wage earners 65 years of age or over who have secured six calendar quarters of employment after December 1936 in jobs covered by the provisions of the Social Security Act, and who have become unemployed or contemplate retiring, to contact an office of the Board to familiarize themselves with the requirements necessary to become entitled to old-age and survivors insurance benefits.

The amendments to the Social Security act provide that survivors or workers may be entitled to monthly payments where death of the wage earner occurs after December 31, 1939. Payments may also be made to an eligible worker's wife if she is aged 65 or more. Mr. Lewis stated that detailed information may be obtained by calling or writing to the Waukegan field office, Room 4, Post Office Building, Waukegan, Ill.

Highway Workers Hold Christmas Party Tonight

Arrangements were being made today to accommodate 50 at the Christmas party being held by men employed in the Lake County Highway department, this evening in Cerniak's tavern, Leona Lake.

Put up "21" Signs.

The replacing of the "Highway 54" signs and the substitution of new "Highway 21" signs was being carried out by highway employees during the past few days. The highway will now be known as "21" throughout its entire length between Antioch and Chicago.

Warning Is Issued Against Taking Outdoor Ornaments

Merchants along Main street have made complaints to village authorities that youngsters have been stealing and breaking colored electric light bulbs from small Christmas trees and other outdoor displays.

Pointing out that the breaking of bulbs would rank as a misdemeanor and the stealing of them is classed as petty theft, authorities have intimated that if this continues action may be taken in the matter.

A plea is also being made by the businessmen for co-operation in maintaining the beauty of Antioch's outdoor Christmas decorations. These have, from year to year, often exceeded in beauty those of many larger centers.

The hope is being expressed by many that thoughtless actions on the part of a few who are on mischief bent will not lead to the abandonment of Antioch merchants' traditional custom of decorating their places in the business district at Christmas time.

Name Players For Alumni Basketball

Teams for Game Dec. 29 Chosen from Graduates of Past 5 Years

The Christmas season brings home to Antioch High school the basketball stars of former years who are either away attending college or are employed elsewhere.

In honor of this timely reunion teams are to be made up of the returned wanderers and of alumni who are living in the community for the annual Alumni Basketball game, to be held in the high school gymnasium Friday evening, Dec. 29.

The teams this year will be made up of graduates who have finished within the last five years.

Plan Social Gathering.

After the games a general "get-together" for the graduates is planned. Players who have been chosen so far for the alumni teams include:

Post Office Beats 1930 All-Time Yule Record

More than 11,000 Christmas cards were sent out through the Antioch post office Wednesday, establishing an all-time "high," according to Postmaster James Horan. A check-up with other post offices revealed that this was considerably in excess of their volume, in proportion to population. Kenosha, with more than 50,000 population, sent out 140,000 cards Wednesday. Antioch's village population is only 1,100, although this is raised considerably by the number of residents in nearby "subdivisions" and sections using this postoffice.

The previous "high" was set in 1930, when more than 10,000 Christmas cards went out of the local post office in a single day.

Each of the 11,000 cards sent Wednesday had to be handled, not once, but several times as the outgoing mail was sorted by states, cities, etc., Postmaster Horan points out.

MARY JANE MATTHISEN HOSTESS TO FRIENDS

Mary Jane Matthisen of Bristol township entertained a group of young folks at a birthday party on Saturday, December 16. The guests present were June Kull, Virginia Paulsen, Brandon and Marilyn Meese of Antioch; Marjorie and Florence Ullrich of Oak Park, Doris Fitzgerald and June Pofahl of Bristol. Games were played during the afternoon and at five o'clock supper was served. Christmas decorations were used in the dining room and under a sparkling white Christmas tree each child found a gift, as well as the many birthday remembrances for Mary Jane.

Purchase Two Adult, Six Infant Respirators

The purchase of six infant respirators and two adult size iron lungs will be made possible through donations of Lake county citizens, the purchasing committee announced this week.

It is planned at present that one of the adult iron lungs will be kept at Jane Dowd Emergency hospital in Waukegan and the other probably in Highland Park. The six infant respirators, all hand-operated, are to be placed in various hospitals in the county.

A permanent committee, the personnel of which is to be changed each year, will succeed the present committee on July 1, 1940. W. C. Petty of Antioch is a member of the present committee.

The permanent committee would consist of a member of the Lake County Medical society, the county superintendent of schools, and a representative of the Waukegan News-Sun. One of the committee's duties will be to make an inspection of the equipment every three months to make sure that it is in perfect working order.

As soon as the respirators are delivered, one or two members from the staffs of each Lake county hospital is to be given instructions in their use. A 30-day limit is being set on the use of the iron lung by a resident of Lake county. By that time it is expected that the patient will make provisions for either purchase or rental of a respirator. For emergency use, outside the county, the Lake county equipment may be used for one week and must be returned then or another made ready for use in Lake county.

Antioch High Wins Over Wauconda 22-20

(By Scoop)

In a game long to be remembered by Antioch fans, the fighting Sequoits nosed out the Wauconda Bulldogs in an overtime game, 22-20, Tuesday night at Antioch gymnasium.

The Sequoits took the lead early in the first period when Harvey made a beautiful long field goal and the quarter ended 3-3. The second quarter was a slow quarter with Antioch scoring 8 points to Wauconda's 5. The half ended with the Sequoits in front, 11-8. The next quarter was nip and tuck, with Antioch holding their 3 point advantage. The fourth quarter was a thriller, as Wauconda tied it up on a free throw by Froelke with but 15 seconds to play. The siren sounded with the score tied 20-20.

The overtime period was played with the first team that got 2 points the winner. Antioch received the ball on the tip off and Harvey shot and missed, but Thompson tipped in the rebound to win the game for Antioch.

In the curtain raiser the Antioch Lights defeated Wauconda's bantams 20-14. Bob Hunt was high scorer for Antioch, with 9 points.

Six Hundred Amused Fans Enjoy Game

Donkey Basketball Between Lions, Firemen Proves Big "Draw"

Extra seating arrangements were necessary to accommodate the crowd of more than 600 spectators who followed with evident enjoyment and occasional outbursts of hilarity the "donkey basketball" game put on by teams from the Antioch Fire Department and the Antioch Lions club Monday evening in the high school gymnasium.

After a great many ups and downs—particularly "downs"—and pulling tugging and edging around for position, the game finally came to an end amid roars of laughter from the on-lookers, with a 12-6 triumph in favor of the firemen.

A fast contest between the Richmond Zephyrs and the official Antioch Lions team shared honors on the double program and came out with a close win of 38-33 in Richmond's favor.

The entertainment opened with a demonstration of clever stunts performed by trained dogs. The game between the Lions and Firemen, riding on trained donkeys, followed.

The difficult—not to say delicate—matter of which team should have two coveted players, "Jim" McMillen and Walter Scott, who were eligible for either, was finally arranged by way of a compromise.

It was decided that during the first half of the game McMillen and Scott should play for the Firemen, but during the second half they were to contribute their valued efforts on behalf of the Lions.

The line-ups included James Dunn, R. F. Allner, Edgar Simonsen, Lew Van Patten and Dudley Kennedy for the Lions, and George Joedicke, Elmer Rentner, Irving Carey, George Wagner and R. G. Holtz for the firemen.

Proceeds of the game are to be applied toward the fire department's fund for the purchase of new uniforms.

F. F. A. Exhibitors at Palatine Show Receive Premiums

Premium checks totaling $65.94 won at the Palatine Future Farmer show on November 11 arrived today from the state treasurer and will be distributed to the 18 Vocational Agricultural students who exhibited.

The distribution, according to C. L. Kull, occurs annually and coming at the Christmas season as it usually does each year, brings an extra cheer to the F. F. A. boys who produced the specimens exhibited in their home project work during the year.

Masonic Lodge Installation Is Well Attended

Delegations from Waukegan and Millburn were among the 100 members and guests who attended the installation held by Sequoit Lodge No. 827, A. F. and A. M., Monday evening in the Antioch Masonic temple.

Elmer W. Kufalk heads the new officers as worshipful master, and among the Millburn delegation was a group of men who had put on the third degree work for him in 1930. Samuel E. Pollock acted as installing master. Special musical selections were given by Mrs. E. J. Hays, soloist; Mrs. E. W. Kufalk, organist, and Hans Von Holwede, accordionist.

Injures Foot While Working on Water Main

Lloyd Stoxen of Wilmett, one of the men who has been employed by the Carey Electric and Plumbing Co., in laying the new water main the village is putting in along Harden street from Victoria to Spafford, was injured while at work on the project Monday.

A heavy pipe fell, striking his left foot and breaking one of the bones in it.

Stoxen has had the bone set and is getting along favorably, but will have to get around on crutches for the next five weeks.

Modern War Has No Victors

This holiday season the United States has much to be thankful for—and the ancient greeting of "happy new year" should have more than ordinary significance. Alone of the great powers of the world, we are at peace, and remote from the bloody shambles of war.

That we will stay at peace should be every American's passionate resolution. For war does more than destroy lives and property. It destroys ideals, institutions, principles—the best that centuries of our forebears have bequeathed us. Certainly this weary planet should have learned by now that there are no victors in modern war—there are only losers.

Peace is the finest Holiday gift any nation in this war-torn world can have.

High-Lighting Politics

By John Randall Page

Washington—The hardest blow of all to hit the New Deal has been the aggression by the Russian Communists against the little Finnish Republic.

Communism went into a tailspin when the Nazi-Communist pact was signed in September. But with the assault on Finland, the eyes of the American public suddenly opened to the implications of Communism. Those who had scoffed at Communist activities in the United States as exposed by the Dies Committee were aghast as the Finnish Communists immediately called for support of the Russian aggression.

What this sudden shift in sentiment means to President Roosevelt's third term ambition, it is too early for the politically-minded here to discern.

Although public support for the President's domestic policies has slumped steadily, he has kept sentiment with him strongly on foreign relations. Had the Russian Communist assault been aimed at Rumania, or any other country, the wisdom of the Roosevelt attitude toward the Soviet would not have been brought so sharply into focus. But two facts stand out in current reviews—

1. American sympathy is flamingly partial to the little sister republic of Finland.
2. It was President Roosevelt's recognition of the Communist regime that brought Stalin into the family of nations and gave him the strength to challenge the world.

At the present time, political observers in Washington realize that Roosevelt is playing for time. He is following the old political axiom, "If you have a hot poker, don't handle it until it cools."

Eventually the President must take one of two courses, both of which are charged with political dynamite. If he withdraws our ambassador from Moscow, he will be following the course prescribed by ex-President Hoover, who asked, "Why all this tenderness toward the Communists?" On the other hand, if Mr. Roosevelt does not move against the Soviet, it will be apparent that he has adopted one policy for Nazi aggressors and another for Communist aggressors.

In this whole issue is certainly bound up much of the political future of Mr. Roosevelt and an important 1940 issue.

SOCIETY NOTES

Hazel Hawkins, Bride-to-be, is Feted at Showers

A number of showers have been given, recently, precluding the marriage of Miss Hazel Irene Hawkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hawkins, to William James Overton of Los Angeles.

St. Ignatius church will be decorated with evergreen and flowers for the candlelight ceremony to be held there at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The Rev. J. E. Charles is to officiate; and Robert Hawkins, a cousin of the bride, will sing "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

Mrs. Chris Larsen, mother of the bridegroom, has already arrived from Los Angeles to be present for the ceremony. A 5 o'clock reception at the Hawkins home, which, like the church, will be decorated in keeping with the Christmas season, will follow the service.

The bridegroom and Mrs. Larsen will be remembered by many as former residents of Antioch.

For her marriage, Miss Hawkins has chosen a gown of court blue silk crepe. With it she will wear a hat of dubonnet, from which will fall a sheer, shoulder-length veil also in the du-bonnet. Her slippers will be of a shade matching the hat, and her bou-quet will be of deep-pink chrysanthemums.

Her maid of honor, Miss Ruth Cremm of Lake Villa, is to be gowned in silk crepe of the new "Chinese Tea" shade. Ruth's hat and accessories are to be in green, and yellow chrysanthemums will compose her bouquet.

Attending the bridegroom will be William Brook, Charles and Frederick Hawkins, brothers of the bride,

GIVE CHRISTMAS DIALOGUE FOR RACINE BAHAI GROUP

On Sunday evening of last week,
Mrs. Frank Mcese of Antioch, and Mrs. A. F. Matthisen of Bristol, presented a Christmas Dialogue at the Racine Bahai Center. "Gifts, and the Giver of Gifts" was the title and its keynote was, "that in addition to celebrating the birthday of Jesus the Christ, Christmas giving is a symbol of the sacrifice that Jesus made of himself that men might be freed from the imperfections of the physical nature, and become possessed of the virtues of the spiritual nature. Jesus taught that "It is more blessed to give than to receive." Real giving is not confined to material things but includes love, service, goodwill and even a handclasp or smile—so none can say he has nothing to give, when love is the greatest of gifts. A fountain is continually emptying itself of all that it has and is continually being refilled from an invisible source. We should be as the fountain, always giving of what we have for the good of our fellows, undeterred by any fear of poverty and relying on the unending bounty of the Source of all wealth—
the Giver of Gifts, God.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Dean of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for December 24

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

THE CHILD AND THE KINGDOM

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 1:18-25; 18:1-6; 19:13-15.
GOLDEN TEXT—A little child shall lead them.—Isaiah 11:3.

The children's holiday!
Yes, Christmas is the children's day of days, and it is also the day for those who have been "converted and become as little children" (Matt. 18:3). It is quite proper that it should be so, for Christmas really means nothing very significant except as we gather at Bethlehem's manger and there we find a child, the Christ-child. These who come on the morrow to do homage to Him in the "spirit of childlike faith" will truly keep Christmas. In that spirit the writer of these notes wishes for you who read these lines just that kind of a holy day of joy and gladness.

Let us then go first of all to Bethlehem, and there having seen the One who "became flesh and dwelt among us" as a little child, we shall be ready to go on and learn from Him what a blessed example, responsibility, and opportunity there is in the childhood which we see all around us.

I. The Child—Jesus Our Saviour (Matt. 1:18-25).

The virgin mother Mary "brought forth her firstborn son" and "called his name Jesus"—the one who should "save his people from their sins" (vv. 21, 25). In order that He might be the Saviour, He had to be both God and man. This could only be true as God sent His own only-begotten Son into the world by giving to Him a human mother in whom He as the eternal Son of God was "conceived by the Holy Ghost" (as we express it in the creed) and became the Son of Man.

For anyone who believes that God has all power and all wisdom to do what He wills and as He wills, and who further believes that Christ was pre-existent as the Son of God before His incarnation, there is no difficulty in believing in the virgin birth. In fact, no other manner of incarnation would have been possible. It necessarily follows that the one who denies the virgin birth of Christ thereby declares that He does not believe in the God of the Scriptures and in Jesus Christ His Son our Lord.

II. The Child—Our Example (18:1-4).

The disciples had been having a discussion about who was to be the greatest in the kingdom of heaven. This was not because they desired their brothers' advancement, for each one wanted to be the greatest (Luke 9:46).

Jesus frankly told them that they needed a real change of heart, a conversion. True greatness is not a matter of worldly position or ambition, but of a childlike humility. Such an idea was absolutely revolutionary in the day of Jesus, and in fact sounds unbelievable to the worldly man today. But it is nonetheless true that the great man or woman is the one who knows and recognizes himself to be utterly dependent on God in every moment, every circumstance, every trial, and in every opportunity of life. We need to learn of our children.

III. The Child—Our Responsibility (18:5, 6).

These awful, solemn words should be considered with great care. What a terrible judgment awaits those who cause little ones to stumble by reason of their false teaching, their failure to bring God's Word to bear upon their lives, improper discipline in the home, or the influence of a bad example. There are probably preachers, teachers in the Sunday School, grandparents, uncles, aunts, mothers, fathers, yes, even friends of little children who need to reread these verses and then cry out to God in repentance before it is too late.

IV. The Child—Our Opportunity (19:13-15).

Jesus knew the real value of a child and His loving heart reached out to invite the children to come unto Him in love, in obedience, and in trust. When they came, He never failed to bless them.

The glorious thing is that we are privileged to thus bring little children to Him. Someone may say, "Jesus is no longer on earth, I cannot take my child to Him." Jesus is not here in the flesh, but He is here ever present with His children. You can bring your child to Him, for the coming which He has in mind in these verses is not in any physical sense but rather spiritual. The parents who teach their little ones about the birth of Christ on this Christmas day have brought them to Him. Every word of instruction, every encouragement to pray, every example of devotion to Christ which the child may follow is the true bringing of that child to Him.

Will you do it this Christmas—in the home, in the Sunday School, in the church, anywhere? If you do, there will be blessing beyond your ability to contain it and you will have

A Blessed Christmas!

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS BY JOSEPH W. LaBINE

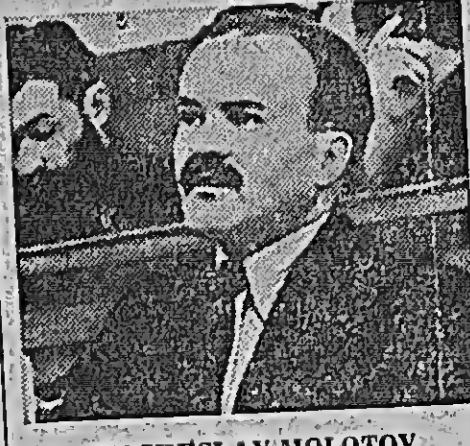

Russia's Ouster From League Is Empty Victory for Finland Because Geneva Is Powerless

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

They Figured in the Battle of Nations

JOSEPH AVENOL
Secretary-General of the League, he called the special session at Finland's behest after the little Baltic nation was invaded by Russia. Purpose: To win League condemnation of Russia, possibly her expulsion, and the support of other League nations for Finland's cause. When the assembly agreed unanimously to offer Russia its mediation services, Avenol extended the bid to Moscow.

VIACHESLAV MOLOTOV
Premier of Russia, he replied bluntly by referring Avenol to an earlier Soviet message which said Russia considered Finland's appeal "unfounded"; that Russia did not consider herself at war with Finland; that Moscow was maintaining "peaceful relations" with the Soviet sponsored Finnish "peoples" government; that the regular Helsinki government no longer had authority.

KARL HAMBRO
League assembly president and representative of Norway, he was among leading pro-Finnish workers who argued for Russia's expulsion following receipt of Molotov's message. Rudolph Freyre, Argentine delegate, threatened to leave the League unless this action was taken. Finally, such a resolution was passed and the council adopted it. Avenol was ordered to give the Soviet its walking papers.

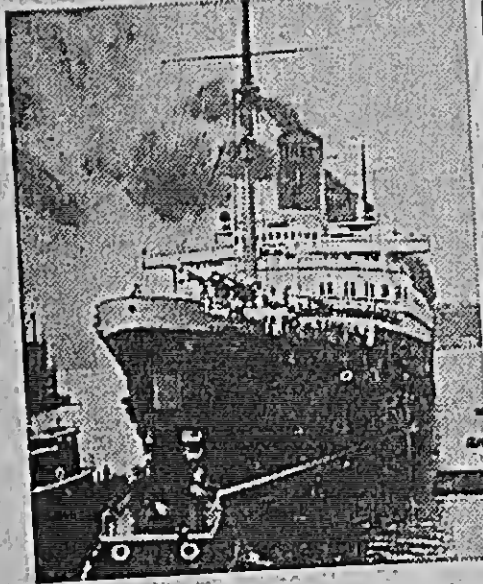

JAKOB SURITS
Russian ambassador to France and delegate to the League, he packed his bags and left Geneva silently while the forces of democracy cheered. But observers wondered about the wisdom of this gesture. Would not Russia's ouster drive the Kremlin closer to Berlin and Tokyo, thereby cementing the pro-war forces and spreading the conflict? Moreover, had the defunct League gained anything?

THE WARS: Western Front

"Strangers are present," said Prime Minister Chamberlain, and 15 reporters were ousted from the gallery. A few minutes later the house of commons began its first secret session since the World war. Subject: "Organization of supplies for the prosecution of war."

There was probably a lot of explaining to do. First Lord of the Admiralty Winston Churchill was probably asked why Germany's $20,000,000 Bremen was allowed to slip through the blockade and reach

BREMEN
Why, Mr. Churchill?

Hamburg, homeward bound from Murnansk.

(The admiralty had announced a British submarine had sighted the Bremen but did not attack because it would have broken international law. Germany scoffed at this report, but failed to tell why the Bremen was called home so suddenly from the alleged safety of a Russian port.)

Sir John Simon probably had to explain why Britain and France had merged their economic structure into what English financiers called

NAMES

...in the news

Buried: Screen Actor Douglas Fairbanks, Drug Magnate Charles Walgreen and Michigan's G. O. P. Rep. Carl E. Mapes.

Made political news: New York's Rep. Hamilton Fish Jr., who announced he would enter the 1940 G. O. P. presidential race; Candidate Tom Dewey, who planned a New England drive; Idaho's isolationist Sen. William Borah, who fought a plan to sidetrack foreign policy as a campaign issue.

New job: Bishop John F. O'Hara, who relinquished presidency of Notre Dame university to become auxiliary archbishop and navy bishop of the U. S. under papal appointment.

TREND

SLASHED—Cotton export subsidy rate, for second time in a week, from four-tenths of a cent to two-tenths of a cent.

MODIFIED—To pacify Nazis, Sweden formed a new government under Premier Albin Hansson, retiring Foreign Minister Richard Sandler who had drawn German wrath.

EXCLUDED—Mexican participation in the new low tariff on U. S. crude oil imports, as provided in the new trade pact with Venezuela. Reason: Mexico has expropriated U. S.-owned oil wells.

RAISED—U. S. tariffs on imports from Danzig and Poland, now controlled by Germany, which pays a higher duty on exports to the U. S. than any other nation.

WHITE HOUSE: Trade Pact

At his press conference President Roosevelt nosed his ship of state smack into a brewing storm that will break soon after congress convenes. He agreed with Secretary Cordell Hull that the reciprocal trade treaty act should be renewed in 1940. Though the act has been attacked by most Republicans, many Democrats and a growing body of farmers, Mr. Roosevelt said it has resulted in many American export gains.

Received a message from Finnish President Kyosti Kallio thanking him for his sympathy toward Finland. (The President announced the Red Cross is sending $500,000 for Finnish aid; meanwhile the Finns were negotiating to buy gas masks here).

Joined California's Rep. H. Jerry Voorhis in attacking the Dies un-Americanism committee of which Voorhis is a member for the "undemocratic" way in which it released a report charging 13 consumer organizations with communist activities. The report, said Voorhis, was "purely and simply the opinion of J. R. Matthews," committee research director, who released it before other committeemen knew it was being prepared.

Named 12 new rear admirals for the navy.

Attended the White House diplomatic reception where assembled the Washington envoys of warring Finland and Russia, Germany and France, Japan and China.

THE NEUTRALS: Flight From Rome

In non-warring European nations, news was made by:

Russia's Ambassador to Italy Nicolai Gorelchin, who arrived in Rome just as Soviet troops reached the Finnish frontier, and left abruptly for home without waiting to present his credentials. Reason: Uninformed young Fascists have stormed Rome's Russian embassy daily, protesting the Finnish invasion.

Italy's Editor Virginia Gayda, who hinted how Britain might woo and win his nation's support. Said he: Italy must have "certain free exits," all of which (Dardanelles, Suez and Gibraltar) are now controlled by Britain.

An explosion in Rumania's cellulose plant at Zarnesti, killing 80, injuring 200. Following quick on the heels of train wrecks and oil plant fires, the incident was blamed on "foreign agents" who are pressing Rumania from all sides.

LABOR: NLRB Probe

Introduced before the house committee investigating the national labor relations board was evidence designed to show NLRB is badly in need of a housecleaning. Chief proponent was the board's Dr. William Leiserson, whose charges of bias on the part of fellow board members (Edwin L. Smith and Warren Madden) were interspersed with revelations from the board's correspondence files. Conservative, probably favoring the American Federation of Labor against C. I. O., Dr. Leiserson has been a minority, non-cooperative member.

Evidence on this and other points:

Dr. Leiserson tried to force removal of the board secretary, Nathan Witt, charging he lacked "impartiality." Unsuccessful, he occasionally declined to participate in board decisions, whereupon the other members recommended disciplinary action.

One such case involved the President's son-in-law, Seattle Publisher John Boettiger, who expressed the hope that Leiserson's failure to participate indicated "a change of policy."

Ellenore Herrick, regional NLRB director for New York, protested that two of Witt's assistants had conducted an investigation in her office in a manner "one might expect from the (Russian) O. G. P. U., but not from fellow administrators of an agency of the American government."

Christmas Invitation

By Katherine Edelman

JACK TRESLAR hunched his broad shoulders deeper into the big chair, turning a new page of his book. He was reading a Christmas story, trying hard to become absorbed in the tale.

A sharp ring from the telephone brought him to his feet. Who could be calling him on Christmas eve?

A strange voice responded to his "hello." "I hate to bother you on Christmas eve, Mr. Treslar. But I'm ringing up to ask if it would be possible for you to come and spend Christmas with me. My name is Bevan Willers. I live out at Richmond. I have a big home, and—"

"But—but I don't even know you, Mr. Willers. There must be some mistake."

"I want you!" the low voice was emphatic. "Will you come or not?" Jack repressed a quick exclamation. "I—I had thought of spending Christmas—" he began.

"Wouldn't it be possible to change your plans? I have a feeling they could be side-tracked easily."

Jack thought of the lonely Christmas he had been anticipating. Ater all, there might be something to this unusual invitation.

He ascended the steps leading to the massive door.

"You are right about my plans," he admitted. "They are rather in the air. But—but going to spend Christmas with an utter stranger took me back for a moment."

"That's why I thought you might come." There was a note of disappointment in Bevan Willers' voice. "I probably got the wrong man, however."

Jack thought again of the lonely Christmas before him. And before he could debate the question, he heard a voice inside of him answering, calling through the wire to Richmond. "You got the right man, Mr. Willers. I'm coming."

An hour later, bathed and dressed, Jack Treslar was speeding along the frosted highway to Richmond. Following the detailed instructions that had been given him, Jack found the long winding drive leading from the roadway. What a secluded, ghostly place, he thought, as he drove under the snow-sprinkled trees.

BEVAN WILLERS was waiting. In the dim light from the chandelier, his tall bent figure seemed grotesque. "I have let the servants away for the evening," he said; his bony hand motioning toward the end of the shadowed hall.

Jack Treslar felt a twinge of fear as he followed. Here he was—alone in the house with this strange old man. Anything could happen. There wasn't another residence within blocks. Then, his adventurous spirit reassured itself, and he looked smilingly across the table at Bevan Willers. "Well, what's it all about?"

A dead silence was the only answer. Gray eyes under heavy-lidded brows stared at him intently. Jack stared back unflinchingly. Then a hearty laugh rang through the library. With amazement Jack saw the old man straighten up in his chair. Years seemed to fall off his shoulders. The twisted, grotesque appearance vanished as if by magic. He spoke quietly.

"I'm not crazy," he began; "I'm just a lonely old fellow, ticketed as a sort of recluse. The true facts are that I've been trying for years to write. Yesterday I got word that a story of mine had been accepted."

"But I still don't understand your strange invitation, and—" Jack interrupted.

"I'm coming to that," Bevan Willers continued. "The hero of my book is a daring, adventurous fellow. A man willing to answer a strange call that came in the night. I got intrigued with the fellow, and began thinking: Wondering if there was any young fellow who would act as he had done. So I rang the first hotel that came to mind and described my hero. Young, unmarried, interesting sort of chap. Pretended his name had slipped my mind for the moment. They connected me with your room. You know the rest."

Jack stretched out his long arm across the desk, and gripped the old man's hand. "Now that I'm here, Mr. Willers, do you still believe you have got the right man?" There was wistful expectancy in his dark eyes.

"I don't just think—I'm absolutely positive."

Merry Christmas!

By Helen Morton

IT WAS enough to make one hate Christmas! Betsy was so tired that she could hardly stand. This counter in the middle of the aisle had become a nightmare to her. The crowds hurrying by, pulling the neckties off as their coats brushed against them, fingering them over and then tossing them back on the table carelessly.

Still, it was good to have a job, even a temporary one. For she had been without work for a long enough time so that she had "eaten" and all her possessions she could borrow money on.

No time to be standing here thinking, though. That fat woman looked as if she was going to buy several ties. "These are very nice, madam. And so reasonable; 35 cents a piece, or three for $1.00. This is an exceptionally pretty one," and Betsy showed her a navy blue. But the fat woman dropped the ties and hastened away with her friend, leaving a pile of ties on the floor.

Wearily Betsy leaned over and began picking them up. "Let me help?" a friendly voice asked. Betsy looked up into a handsome face, curly brown hair, deep blue eyes, and a mouth that curved into a smile at the surprise in Betsy's eyes.

"I want to get some ties for my family. I've been up here, the past few weeks, and so I don't know what the kids want, but I think it'll be safe to give 'em ties. Socks are so commonplace."

"Your brothers?" Betsy asked as she held up one or two she liked particularly.

"Yeah. Three brothers and a sister. She's about your age, I reckon. What does a girl like, anyway, when you've only a little to spend?" He looked imploringly.

"Let's get the brothers fixed up first, and then see about her. How's this for the 17-year-old?" Betsy inquired.

"Fine. You know, I'm tickled pink to be able to do anything for the family. I struck a bad spell, was down with flu for three weeks, and lost my job. I just got another last week. But I'd have hated to have the day go by with nothing from the big boy." His face was shining.

"I'll have them wrapped as gifts. Then you go over to the counter there and select something for your sister. Here, I'll take you over, and get a girl from my home town to wait on you. She'll help," and Betsy went along with him.

"You're not a city girl, then? No wonder you were so helpful. I'm scared of these sophisticated girls in most of the shops. That's because I've been here only a few months, and in my home town everyone knew everyone and it was, well, it was different. Say, you don't think I'm getting fresh, do you? I'm just so homesick." His face was red with embarrassment.

"I want to get some ties for my family."

It was Betsy's turn to look troubled. "Sure, I knew how it was. I don't chatter away with every customer this way, either. I'm like you new here, and homesick for my own people. I was hating Christmas time, with so much confusion and no real Christmas spirit. So I'm glad you told me about your family."

She turned him over to Marie at the women's wear counter, and went on with her selling. They seemed prettier, fresher and more attractive, than they had before the curly-headed fellow had come along to buy some.

ONLY a half hour off for supper, then she'd have to work until the store closed at nine. Christmas eve meant lots of last minute gifts to be bought in this big city. As she turned away from her counter to go out to eat, a friendly voice sounded at her shoulder.

"If you're going to snatch a sandwich, do you mind if I go along and we learn something more about each other? Your friend told me you'd have just a little while for lunch, and I want to get acquainted, if you'll let me." It wasn't just a "pick-up." This was a homesick boy, wanting to talk with a small-town girl who knew his language.

There was just a moment's hesitation before Betsy said, with a grin, "Sure enough. Lead me to the lunch counter. You're no more lonely than I've been. As it is, I really feel like I can say 'Merry Christmas' when tomorrow comes."

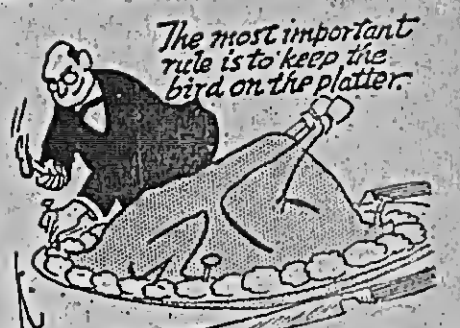

Being Directions On How to Carve Christmas Turkey

Gather round ye masters of the Christmas dinner table. Uncle Sam will teach you a lesson.

The government has issued an official bulletin on the proper technique for carving the Christmas turkey.

The bulletin rules on such important problems as whether the fatter should stand or sit while doing the honors and the position of the turkey on the platter. All you have to do is read this, and carving the festive bird will be a lead-pipe cinch.

"The turkey rides on the platter back down," says the bureau of home economics. "The first problem is father's: Should he stand or sit while carving?"

There are two schools of thought on this subject; and the government grants father his constitutional rights to do as he pleases. But it is suggested, after deliberation, that a short person had best stand and a tall person should sit for the most effective work. Are you short or tall?

The next problem, says the bulletin, is the point of attack. It is here that many a head of a house, the bureau believes, has lost the Christmas spirit through ignorance or awkwardness—or just plain stubbornness.

Only a few simple rules need be followed. The most important, of course, is to keep the bird on the platter, because it's rather difficult to work on the floor. Also, the bureau estimates, a bird on the platter is worth two on the tablecloth. "First," the bureau said, "remove the leg from the body by grasping it in your left hand (but what if you're left handed?) and cutting straight down to the hip joint. Remove the wings and the other leg."

"Then place the fork squarely across the breastbone toward the end of the keel, to anchor the bird while you carve the breast in slices; using a slightly sawing motion."

If you don't like the shape of your turkey, or the distribution of dark and white meat, well—why not have your wife carve in the first place?

Christmas Hymns Ring From Depths Of Michigan Mine

ISHPEMING, MICH. — "Silent Night, Holy Night" drifts mysteriously up the pitch-black Morris mine shafts here. Down below, 1,500 feet underground, 200 grimy-faced workmen pause for the world's most unique Christmas party, an annual event held at the Inland Steel company's iron mine here.

The Story of the Nativity

St. Luke Version . . . Chapter II

And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.

(And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.)

And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.

And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David);

To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

The Observer

Fire Chief James Stearns was in the News office the other morning. You remember we were saying in last week's paper how he gave a venison feed for the Antioch firemen. The Chief was kind of modest about it. He said he was only partly as good a hunter as we had bragged him up to be. Some of that venison, he said, was donated by Walter I. Scott. "Scotty" was another member of the Chief's hunting party that went up to northern Wisconsin recently.

Antioch seems to have lots of Christmas these days, what with the Christmas carols being broadcast, and the lights and all.

In the business district, many of the stores seem to have out-done themselves with beautiful displays. Many of them feature wares set forth in an attractive or novel manner that would do credit to a much larger community than Antioch. Others show Biblical scenes illustrative of "The Christmas Story," or other appropriate holiday scenes, gracefully arranged.

And while the Christmas festivities draw near, many along Main street feel a moment of sadness as they recall one man who seemed always to enter especially into the spirit of Christmas fun—Charles N. Lux, who passed away last summer. "Charlie" loved to decorate the window of his electrical shop—now the Wilton electric store—with huge Santa Clauses and fire-places, and mysterious-looking packages that contained little surprise gifts for his friends, but were not opened until the last possible moment, after they had kept the city's zenny guessing for days.

Charles Lux, who remembered so many during his lifetime, will be remembered in the hearts of many Antioch folks at Christmas.
